(Ontinued from last week.) How Watch Cases are Made.

In buying a silver watch case great care should be taken to secure one that is solid aliver throughout. The cap of most cheap silver cases is made of a composition known as albata, which is a very poor substitute for silver, as it turns black in a short time. The backs of such cases are made much thinner than those of an all silver case, being robbed in order to make the cap thicker and get in as much as possible of the cheap metal. Another important point in a silver case is the joints or binges, which should be made of gold. Those of most cheap eases are made of silver, which is not a suitable metal for that purpose. In a brief period it warps, bends and spreads apart, allowing the backs to become loose upon the case and admitting the dust and dirt that accummulate in the pocket. The Keystone Silver Watch Cases are only made with allver caps and gold joints.

In our long and varied experience in hearing makes, we cannot but acknowledge and experience in hearing watches, we cannot but acknowledge and give our teampour that this dispetons Bolid. Silver, Watch Cases are the book made to our knowledge. Having no midering they remain homogeneous, Aarder and sifes that they within a ware they hashed for adopting, and their premiting power and into account, and the remaining the matter asset in the matter.
